

“Dinosaur Hands”

Neurodivergent people often sleep with hands tucked into their necks. This creates a sense of warmth, comfort, and regulation.